

OPEN EVENING

Wednesday, 2 October 2013, 7 - 9pm

The Cartwright Room – Garden Halls
12 - 18 Cartwright Gardens, London WC1H 9EE

Nearest tube stations: Russell Square and King's Cross

You are cordially invited to a free evening of astrology, exploring both the symbolism and the practical uses of this ancient and magical discipline.

Tutors, graduates and students of the Faculty will be on hand to talk about the courses that we run, leading to our prestigious and internationally-recognised Diploma qualification.

Founded in 1948, we are the oldest astrological school in the UK, offering Foundation and Diploma Courses, distance learning and classes options, and an annual Summer School, all taught by highly-qualified and experienced astrologers.

Come and find out more about astrology, how it could make a difference in your life and what the Faculty of Astrological Studies can offer you.

7pm An Introduction to the Faculty and its Courses

7.30pm The Magic of Astrology – Faculty tutors will give a practical talk on astrology, exploring its symbolism and showing how we can use it to enrich our understanding of ourselves and the world around us. This is an excellent chance for you to see just how astrology works in practice, presented by experienced working astrologers. The talk will also look at astrology's many uses and applications, including ideas and opportunities for working professionally as an astrologer.

8.15 - 9pm Question and Answer Session – A chance to ask any questions you might have about the Faculty and about studying astrology.

Tea, coffee and biscuits will be served.
